

Privacy Policy

ICHCA International respects each individual's right to personal privacy and you can browse through our website without having to provide any personal information.

The information ICHCA International collects and holds is information provided by you. We take reasonable processes to ensure that all information is accurate and up-to-date. All members are able to contact us at any time for amendment of the information held. All members are able and requested to contact us should they not agree to contact information being provided to anyone at any time. ICHCA International may contact you with information related to cargo handling.

ICHCA International does not sell or make publicly available any of the information we hold.

We only use and disclose contact information for the purpose for which it was disclosed or related purposes which would reasonably be expected without your permission, for example we may occasionally disclose contact information to service providers / third parties who may make contact in connection with our services and products.